Situation

These rural houses have been beautifully restored from being a farmer's cottage, grain store and two stables. The principal crops grown in this area are potatoes together with plums, pears, apples, nut and chestnuts. This area is well recommended for walking, cycling and riding; offering the clients all the richness of the natural canarian environment. Only fifteen minutes away from the farm is Chanajiga people have barbecues and picnics and can see Laurisilva vegetation which in the tertiary age covered a large part of Europe and nowadays is found only in some Atlantic island. Our visitors will be able to practise all types of sports for example tennis, golf, diving, hang-gliding at nearby centres as well as enjoying the traditional canarian cooking, the Mediterranean cooking accompanied by excellent wines.
